What's a New Hampshire Master Gardener?

Over 400 Master Gardeners share their love of gardening and expertise through the UNH Cooperative Extension. Ruth Smith, Master Gardener Program Manager, will talk about what they do, how you can become a "Master" from the application process, to the instruction and community service components, and the many ways that Master Gardeners have had an impact in the state.

Ruth Smith joined the UNH Extension in September 2018 having had many years of professional experience in volunteer management and environmental education as well as a life-long love of gardening. Ruth facilitates the recruitment, training, support, engagement and recognition of Master Gardeners throughout the state.
